

FRIDAY WORKSHOPS

What's Your Endgame?

You are in the action now and participating in adventure after adventure. But what is your Endgame? Where do you see yourself going after high school? Where do you see yourself in 5 years? In this workshop we will find ways to explore our options and find a way to reach our Endgame.

Friendly Neighborhood Spiderman

This superhero is well known as the friendly neighborhood Spiderman. The lyrics in the 90s cartoon theme song sings, "Wealth and fame, he's ignored. Action is his reward...He spins a web, any size, catches thieves just like flies. Look out! Here comes the Spiderman!" As superheroes in the blue jacket, we strive to hold the same selflessness as Spiderman. In this workshop, we will learn the concept of servant leadership and how tapping into our own values and ethics can help us reach the epitome of living to serve.

Powers to Promotion

Falcon displayed sacrifice, courage, and great effort. Captain America recognized Falcon's efforts and promoted him to be his successor. In FFA, we all make sacrifices, take brave steps, and invest our talents in becoming the next generation of leaders who will change the world. Just like Falcon, we can be promoted because of our determination. Join us as we recognize the value of promotions such as the State FFA Degree and Proficiency Awards and identify strategies to achieve them.

Suit Up

Any superhero needs their super suit to save the day and defeat the villain. Just like heroes have their super-suits, professionals need strong communication and respect. Together we will work on capitalizing these skills to become the superhero our chapter needs.

SATURDAY WORKSHOPS

Building Your S.H.I.E.L.D.

How do we build our S.H.I.E.L.D in our FFA chapters? We want to create a MARVELous chapter that rocks this world. We will be training and preparing for the most elite team. We will be sharing and creating ways for us to take back to our chapters superpowers that will build your S.H.I.E.L.D chapter.

Be the Fury

Nick Fury is the former Director of S.H.I.E.L.D., Strategic Homeland Intervention, Enforcement, and Logistics Division, and founder of the Avengers. He is an unparalleled leader that finds the right people for the right cause. As our chapter's leaders, we shall do the same. In this workshop, we will focus on how we can help our members find opportunities in FFA based on their own strengths and interests.

Assemble, Plan, Act

When the world seems upside down and the Avengers must act, they first assemble and create a plan. This identifies everyone's important role in achieving their task, and together, their impact is magnified. FFA members, we too can assemble and plan in order to create an impact. Whether we plan community service events, a chapter recognition program, a recruitment activity, or anything in between, planning will aid us in bringing our best to every situation.

Repping Your Supersquad

Every superhero has something that helps us clearly identify them. Captain America has his shield, Thor has a hammer, and Iron Man has his suit. Just like superheroes and supersquads, as FFA members we help to uphold the brand of the FFA and our chapters. In this workshop, we will work to find out how we want to identify our FFA chapters and create a strong brand for our supersquad.
